Almanzora sits between the Sierra de los Filabres and the Sierra de los Estaciones mountain ranges on the banks of the ancient river bed of the Almanzora. Once dependent on local mining and farming, Almanzora is surrounded by agriculture.

The town remains typically Spanish and extends a friendly welcome to visitors and residents. Vera playa and Garrucha are about an half an hour's drive from the town centre. San Javier, Murcia's airport, and Almeria airport are almost an equal distance from Albox and approximately an hour away.
