Spacious country house for sale in the Almeria Province.

This typical Spanish country house is located on the edge of a quaint village that has all the amenities, and has lovely views of the hills and countryside around it.

The property is of a traditional style, and is very spacious, with plenty of rooms that you can reconfigure as you please. Due to the size of the property and location, this would be an ideal business opportunity to create guest house accommodation.

The ground floor is habitable and can be moved into and consists of a large lounge, a kitchen, two bedrooms, a bathroom, a garage and a further room that was originally used to keep animals in, that would make an ideal dining room or study.

Upstairs, there are 4 spacious rooms that will require some renovation. All the walls and roof are in good structural condition.

There is good access to the property and the main road, which takes you to the large market town of Albox, and the motorways for all the main airports - Almeria is approx 1.21 hours away and Murcia 1.38 hours away. You can be at the coast within 50 minutes.
